The image features the handwritten text 'an e Co m s' in a bold, cursive script. The letters are thick and fluid, with the 'C' and 'o' being particularly large and rounded. The text is arranged in a slightly curved, descending line. Surrounding the text are several small, hand-drawn stars, each consisting of a central point with four radiating lines, giving the impression of a starburst or a decorative flourish. The stars are scattered around the text, with some appearing above the 'an', some between the 'e' and 'Co', and others below the 'm' and 's'.
